NEWSREEL

From the hottest products to the coolest launches, here's a low-down on the latest in the market this season

LIVING LUXE

Plüsch Living embodies a new energy and a compelling promise in the domain of luxury living—be it kitchens or lifestyle products. Today, the brand's portfolio includes Poggenpohl, Eggersmann, Goldreif, Gaggenau, and Gutmann for kitchens and appliances; Interlübke and Schmalenbach for wardrobes; and Cor and Draenert for furniture. The retailer values brands focused on the finer details—in terms of design, ergonomics and user requirements. Plüsch has showrooms in Mumbai, New Delhi, Kochi, Bengaluru and Hyderabad. WELCOME ADDITION

Ace Maison, the distributor of Fendi Casa, recently opened a showroom at Nepean Sea Road in Mumbai. This luxurious space—displaying Fendi Casa furniture and accessories—is designed on the lines of the iconic brand's modern aesthetic. You can view a sophisticated range of beds, sofas, armchairs, dining tables, centre tables, and chandeliers—along with some exceptional pieces launched for the first time in the Indian market. The 'Artu' chair (pictured) from the Thierry Lemaire collection stands out for its contrasting linear and circular elements. (acemaison.com)

NEW THREADS

This season, deck your home in luxurious throws and cushions from the 2016 home collection by Shingora. Doing away with bold and strong colours, this range offers home accessories in a subtle, yet chic palette with exotic influences from nature. The brand's e-commerce portal currently retails a range of cushion covers, shawls, stoles and pocket squares. (sbop.shingora.net)

SPACE CRAFT

The Germany-based SEA Group—a company with an almost century-old legacy—presents unique modular kitchen and wardrobe designs combined with impeccable quality and customer service. It opened its 11th showroom in the country in Kochi. The 4,000-square-foot showroom is set to deliver an exclusive experience with six kitchen designs and five spacious modular wardrobes.
